SPECIAL OFFICERS FOR TRAFFIC SQUAD

Twenty Members of Police Force Ordered Up for Examination on Law.

TO SELECT THE EIGHT BEST

Department Preparing to Rigidly Enforce Ordinance at Congested Points.

Acting under a resolution of the Board of Police Commissioners, the committee on rules, discipline, policy and assignment of the force, composed of Commissioners Boykin, Gordon and McCarthy, at a meeting held last night, ordered twenty members of the police force to appear before the committee on November 6 for examination on the provisions of the traffic regulations now in force. Out of these twenty will be chosen eight men whose regular duty will be in enforcing the provisions of the ordinance at congested points, and four substitutes who will be called upon to act in case of the illness or other disability of any of the eight composing the permanent traffic squad.

Wear Special Insignia. The Police Board will supply the members of the squad with the conventional insignia consisting of a yellow wheel on a blue background, to be worn on the left sleeve, and will also furnish them with uniform rubber coats and hoods to be worn in rainy weather over their caps, so as to protect their heads and necks. This protection is regarded as absolutely necessary since the men "on point duty" will be required to stand at all times in the center of intersecting streets, exposed to the full effects of wind, rain, sleet and snow.

Assignment to this squad is greatly coveted by most of the force, for the reason that those selected will be compelled to perform each day only one turn of eight hours of duty, instead of the customary six hours on, six hours off, six hours on, and then twelve hours off. But the work will be far from easy, as the board and the Chief of Police will expect and require a rigid enforcement of the traffic regulations. This step was taken because of the fact that the constant changing of policemen at the points of congestion had been found to be most unsatisfactory in every respect, some officers enforcing the ordinances carefully and intelligently, while others proved themselves utterly inefficient in this particular line of duty.

Up for Examination. The men ordered up for examination were:

W. L. Bradley, J. B. Harris, M. J. Dugan, W. G. Tait, A. R. Duke, H. M. Mitchell, J. H. Dubuque, F. M. Bosc, H. A. Wadsworth, C. A. Moore, C. C. Lee, H. R. Hill, F. C. Mander, C. C. Green, W. D. Schiefel, G. L. Wells, R. W. Cration, M. J. McNamara, N. Bernstein, L. P. Waldron.

Marriage License. Marriage license was issued yesterday to the following: Court to Joseph H. Wilson and Marie Louise Perrier; Hugh F. Rose and Helen Louise Perrier; and to Arthur and Wilhelmina Greenstreet, and to Arthur and Wilhelmina Greenstreet, and to Arthur and Wilhelmina Greenstreet.

Robert Heston's Bill. of Richmond, and Grace Norcross, of Tidewater, R. L. who were married at 4 o'clock at the latter city, filed their marriage license.

BEATTIE'S FATHER WILL ASK MERCY

Secures Information From Governor's Office as to Method of Filing Petition.

COURT MAY ACT ON NOV. 16

Written Opinion Expected in Event Writ of Error Is Denied.

Looking to a possible refusal by the Supreme Court to grant a writ of error in the Beattie murder case, Henry C. Beattie, Sr., father of the condemned man, called at the office of Governor Mann yesterday to learn the nature of steps he should take to petition for respite or for commutation of the death sentence. It is certain that a respite will be asked for in the event the Supreme Court does not act on the petition prior to the time set for execution.

Mr. Beattie did not see the Governor, but was in consultation with Secretary Ben P. Owen for some time. Mr. Owen is an uncle of the murdered wife of Henry C. Beattie, Jr.

Mr. Beattie was informed that a written petition should be prepared, giving the reasons for asking clemency. It is the custom when mercy is requested for the Governor to call on the petition to the trial judge for his opinion on the questions raised in the argument. In all probability Judge Walter A. Watson's view of the situation would be required in this way.

May Deny Execution. However, in the matter of a respite, it is not probable that argument would be necessary further than to show that the case is pending in the Supreme Court. It is the universal custom to grant extensions of time while the case is under consideration for a writ of error. Should such a writ be granted, it in itself acts as a stay of execution until such time as the case is finally heard and decided.

By the terms of the law governing executions of condemned criminals, it is provided that "not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days before the time fixed, in the judgment of the court, for the execution of said sentence, the superintendent of the penitentiary shall cause to be conveyed to the said penitentiary such condemned felon as is named in the writ, and shall be lawfully confined in the penitentiary."

Removed November 6. It will therefore be necessary to have Beattie conveyed to the State prison not later than November 5, which is the day after the Supreme Court session begins, and is seven days prior to the first opinion day of the court. It is the opinion of those familiar with the court's procedure that whether the petition for a writ of error is presented before or after the term begins, a written opinion will be rendered by the court as a body in the event a writ is denied. Should a writ be granted, no opinion is probable, as that would be in effect a statement of the court's views in addition to the argument presented.

It is generally thought that the case will be decided on November 16, the court's first opinion day of the term. A respite would be effective either before or after the prisoner is removed to the penitentiary. The case is before the highest court, the Governor grants the stay before the transfer is made, in view of the extra expense and trouble of taking the prisoner back for trial if a new one is ordered. But Beattie is now in Richmond, and probably this action will not be invoked.

MUST BREAK HIS VOW

"Old Sport," Who Had Sworn Never to Work, Sentenced to Labor on Roads. Eddie Miller, alias William Jennings, a negro who, while doing a little business, forgot which alias he was working under, was sentenced to four months on the roads in Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of stealing $10 from Fannie Had last heavily in the future of the True Reformers Bank, and "Old Sport" who had sworn by all the gods and little fishes that he would never sell his hands with work, offered to recover her money, and was released from the penitentiary.

The case is before the highest court, the Governor grants the stay before the transfer is made, in view of the extra expense and trouble of taking the prisoner back for trial if a new one is ordered. But Beattie is now in Richmond, and probably this action will not be invoked.

Judgment Entered. Judgment was entered in the Law and Equity Court yesterday in the case of Joseph P. Deane, trading under the firm name of Fourcrown, Temple & Company, against Miss Charlotte Skinner for $54.76.

Fannie Quick, the wife, is a frail little woman, weighing about 100 pounds. She is about 35 years of age and has been married to the lawyer for about twice as much as a year. SEEK FOSTER ON BENCH WARRANT

Former Minister, Now Out on Bail, to Be Held for Capital Offense.

NEW EVIDENCE IS SERIOUS

Court Acts Promptly After Woman Appears Before Grand Jury.

Following additional and damaging testimony by Mrs. Nannie Hicks, of Zion, Louisiana county, before a special grand jury of Henric county yesterday morning, a bench warrant was issued by Judge H. Carter Scott ordering the arrest of Edward Foster, the Henric county farmer and preacher, who was given a hearing before Justice T. J. Puryear on September 25 on the charge of a capital offense against Ada Catherine Meeks, a young girl whom he was rearing for the Children's Home Society of Virginia, and was later released on a bond of $2,500 for his appearance on October 2.

The evidence introduced before the magistrate at that time was not considered of sufficient weight to hold Foster on the capital charge and that justice was dismissed and another issued charging betrayal.

The grand jury on October 2 returned a true bill against the accused, and his trial was set for October 12 and later postponed to October 31. Counsel for both sides at the hearing before Justice Scott agreed to his release on a $2,500 bond, and he has since that time been at liberty.

Taken Serious Turn. The case gained a serious aspect last week when the girl's condition became known. The information reached Mrs. Hicks, who had been living with her four sisters, were entrusted by the mother on her deathbed, and from whom the Home Society obtained the child. She appeared before the grand jury yesterday morning and introduced evidence tending to prove certain facts which have existed for the past two years, or ever since the child came into Foster's care, and that Ada is even now under fourteen years of age. Mrs. Hicks claims to have obtained her information from the mother of the child herself, and is positive that Ada was born May 25, 1904, being her thirteen years and five months old today.

Upon hearing the evidence offered by Mrs. Hicks, Judge Scott issued a peremptory order that Foster be taken before him this morning at 10 o'clock, and a bench warrant placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Webb Snyder for his arrest.

The serious turn that the case has now taken will probably mean the confinement of Foster without bail for trial on a capital charge the last day of this month.

TRESNOR MAY RUN

Women Did Not Vote. The civic improvement committee, of which C. P. Cadogan is chairman, recommended that a sufficient sum of money be set aside for the pruning and treating of shade trees. There was a full report from the street committee, Chairman T. Crawford Redd, showing that ample provision had been made for oiling the municipal thoroughfares.

Nearly everybody in Ginter Park is a member of the Citizens' Association, and nearly everybody who belongs was present at the meeting last night.

While there were many women in attendance, they did not vote, leaving business matters to the men, who voted frequently.

NEW TACTICS TRIED Company A, of Blues, Gets Next to Army Procedure.

For the first time in this city the new United States Army tactics were tried by Company A, of the Richmond Blues, last night. Since the new manuals have been received Captain T. B. McDowell has been engaged in mastering the changes enjoined, and last night he gave his entire company the necessary instructions.

While the changes are not radical, some must necessarily be consumed in acquainting the men to its provisions. For a time they will listen to the "full step" command following the "mark time," but will listen in vain, for it has been abolished.

At inspection the commands for opening and closing chambers will be omitted. Instead the term "inspection arms" will cover raising the rifle and opening the chamber. When inspection is concluded the command, "order arms," will include the closing of the chambers. The entire purpose of the improved tactics is to gain time.

Taken to Washington. John Saunders, colored, was arrested yesterday on a charge of being a fugitive from justice from the State of Maryland. He is said to be wanted for murder. He was taken back to that city last night by a detective sent here for him.

STONE CAUGHT AT LAST Prisoner Who Escaped From Officer Arrested While in Saloon.

After evading the police for ten days William Stone, colored, was arrested yesterday in a Broad Street saloon by County Officer H. Sadler, from whom the prisoner escaped while being carried to the county jail on a Main Street car last week. The officer had lost several nights' sleep in succession and fell asleep for a few moments on the last leg of the journey, permitting the negro to jump off the car between Ninth and Tenth streets and escape. Since that day the officer has been on the lookout for him, and nabbed him yesterday morning. He is now in the county jail on a charge of escaping from custody.

Stone is wanted for shooting Will Jones, of the Gayton Coal Mine district.

GINTER PARK MAY CHANGE SYSTEM

Question of Annexation or Incorporation or Special Tax Referred to Committee.

POLLARD AGAIN ELECTED

Citizens Hereafter May Insure Their Property at Its Full Value.

Announcement was made at the annual meeting of the Ginter Park Citizens' Association last night that the three-year contract under which citizens agreed to tax themselves 50 cents on the $100 for general improvements would expire with the coming year. Acting on this information, the association appointed a special committee to decide whether it was best to renew that contract or to apply to the General Assembly for incorporation or to the city of Richmond for annexation. This committee consists of the president and secretary, ex-officio; Charles G. Taylor, Jr., Christopher B. Garnett, Lee Roden, W. P. Reed and Sidney O'Bannon.

Want All of One Mind. Nothing definite in regard to this question has been agreed upon, the association being anxious to hear first from the committee as to what plan it might suggest. Generally speaking, however, members seem to prefer a renewal of the present contract, if found feasible. Inasmuch as the tax is voluntary, the association will endeavor to have all members indorse the plan which may finally be regarded as the best and most practical. There is never any division in these meetings, the members seem to be of one mind in the manner in which everybody has worked together for the upbuilding of the community.

Annual reports submitted by the various committees showed a remarkable amount of progress and improvement. The committee on fire protection, these being John Garland Pollard, president; Christopher B. Garnett, secretary; and D. K. Kellogg, secretary and treasurer.

To Get Full Insurance. Chairman Hunter B. Frischkorn, chairman of the fire committee, and the leading fire fighter of Ginter Park when there is a blaze to subdue, made a report in which he recommended the installation of sixteen new fire hydrants, thus giving the park full fire and protection. The department is already fully equipped, but hereafter it will be possible for citizens to obtain full insurance on their property, the rule heretofore being 75 per cent. of the property value.

Acting on the recommendation of the committee, Dr. P. C. Simmons, chairman of the health committee, the association appropriated the sum of $1,500 for use by Dr. Simmons and his workers.

Most gratifying reports were submitted by Rev. P. A. Ridout, which showed that the school standard prescribed by the State Board of Education with reference to the number of children in each schoolroom had been maintained, this being one of the few schools in Virginia which really provides more floor space than is required, along with ventilation of the most satisfactory character.

Women Did Not Vote. The civic improvement committee, of which C. P. Cadogan is chairman, recommended that a sufficient sum of money be set aside for the pruning and treating of shade trees. BOYS ROB BOY The Him Up in Western Style and Get

While on his way home from McGuire's School yesterday afternoon the nine-year-old son of Mrs. W. M. Moore, of 24 South Third Street, was waylaid by two boys and robbed.

Following a report made to the police the little fellow was caught by two white boys, whose ages range between ten and thirteen years, beneath the Adams Street and the penitentiary. They stopped him, and then bound him, hand and foot, with wire, and then they took him to a nearby place, where they kept him for some time. They got several trinkets of small value and 1 cent, when they released him and bade him go home.

FOLLOWED FOR YEAR Joseph Pelluso Arrested on Charge of Bu-

After a year of labor on the part of the detectives, Joseph Pelluso was arrested last night by M. S. Anglin, a detective in the employ of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. Detective-Sergeants Wiley and Keiser and Police Constable G. A. Smith were on a charge of buying shoes belonging to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company.

According to the detectives at the time, hundreds of dollars worth of shoes were stolen from the railway company, and some of them were traced to the store of Pelluso. His place was raided, but Pelluso escaped. He was arrested, but was later discharged in Police Court. Search for and evidence against Pelluso had continued from that time until last night.

They admitted that they were wanted in Atlantic City for larceny, but did not describe the manner of larceny with which they are charged.

New Cults Condemned by Dr. Wright in Addressing Virginia Physicians.

CONVENTION UNDER WAY

Records Quoted to Show That Majority of Cancer Cases Are Curable.

"New cults and diverse sects are constantly developing and clamoring for license," he said, "and without exception are demanding special privileges. This society must insist and demand that all who treat human ills shall enter at a common portal. All who attempt it should be required to have some training in the fundamental branches of medicine."

As the title of his address indicates, Dr. Wright gave himself a broad field. He offered a concise review of recent progress in medicine and a short consideration of what, in his opinion, constituted its most serious problems. He devoted a considerable portion of his time to the discussion of the treatment and cure of the great modern scourges—appendicitis, tuberculosis and cancer. While progress in the treatment of the two first mentioned diseases, he told delegates, was marked, it has lagged behind in the treatment of cancer.

Cancer Curable. "Astounding as the statement may seem to us," said Dr. Wright, "it is nevertheless true that 75 to 90 per cent. of cancer cases are curable. And yet, although cancer kills half as many people as tuberculosis, and a number of physicians are present from adjoining States.

The convention opened with prayer by Rev. J. N. Latham, of the Centenary Methodist Church, Richmond, and with an address of welcome by Judge John H. Ingram, of this city. In his speech Judge Ingram noted the fact that the Medical Society was organized in Richmond in 1870, making this city a peculiarly appropriate place for its reunion. Of the ninety-two original members, he told the society, only nine are to-day living.

Ours a Medical Centre. Dr. R. W. Martin, of Lynchburg, responded to the welcome on behalf of the visitors. He referred to Richmond's reputation for hospitality to the society in the past and to its high standing among the profession of the State, as "the Mecca to which we all turn when we need professional information or help." Richmond, he told the convention, has for the past half-century been the leading medical centre of the South, and with the co-operation of the profession in every part of the State, will continue being that. He suggested the establishment in this city of a research laboratory, along the line of the Rockefeller Institute, as well as an animal experimentation station. In every such move, he declared, Virginia physicians stand ready to lend Richmond their hearty support and co-operation.

Following the speeches and addresses reports were heard from the secretary and treasurer and a number of standing committees. Manufacturers of drugs and articles for the profession have taken the opportunity offered by the meeting to present their wares to the large number of physicians in attendance
